HARRY SOHL A SUICIDE AT ST. ELIZABETH'S

Harry Sohl, twenty-four years of age, committed suicide at St. Elizabeth's Hospital for the Insane, by hanging. He was committed to the asylum in September last, suffering from acute melancholia. His mother is now an inmate of the Washington Asylum Hospital. Owing to the crowded condition of the asylum Sohl and another inmate have been sleeping in the billiard room. His roommate says that Tuesday night Sohl was quite restless. On awakening yesterday morning the roommate found that Sohl had torn his neck into strips, made a noose around his neck and attached the other end to the hinge of the door. He was in a crouching attitude with his knees almost touching the floor, stone dead.

The coroner gave a certificate of death by suicide while insane.

The accident took place in Dr. Roche's office, 946 Pennsylvania Avenue. He was immediately removed to the Providence Hospital, where his injuries were dressed by Dr. Kerr. Dr. Kerr says the injury is not dangerous, and believes the patient should be able to leave the hospital today.

BOARD OF EDUCATION APPROVES THE LECTURES

Consent Given for a Special Course Before the Teachers' Annuity and Aid Society.

Formal approval was given by the Board of Education last night to the course of lectures under the auspices of the Teachers' Annuity and Aid Society, and also the series of addresses under the teachers' extension course.

The program arranged by the aid society is as follows: Caroline Hazard, president of Wellesley College, Thursday, January 14, on "Moral Education in Schools;" Carroll D. Wright, United States Commissioner of Labor, Wednesday, January 27, on "The Old Versus the New Political Economy;" Liberty Hyde Bailey, professor of horticulture, Cornell, Friday, February 12, "The Nature Study Movement;" E. Benjamin Andrews, chancellor of the University of Nebraska, Friday, March 11, "Problems of Greater America;" and William J. Long, Congregational clergyman, Friday, April 1, "The Study of Nature and Animal Life." The lectures will be delivered at the Central High School.

The other lecture course will be given at the M Street High School, and the speakers will be Caroline Hazard, E. Benjamin Andrews, Carroll D. Wright, O. I. Woodley, superintendent of schools at Glen Ridge, N. J., who speaks February 5, on "Some Reasons Why Teachers Fail." The other speakers will appear the same day they address the Teachers' Annuity and Aid Society, except Commissioner Wright, who will speak February 17 on "The Value of Art and Skill in Industry."

The board accepted the resignation of Jessie R. Freeman, teacher of sewing, and appointed Augusta Savoy to fill the vacancy at a salary of $450. The resignation of A. B. Dillon, a teacher in the night schools, was also accepted.

Among the teachers promoted were H. W. Lewis, from $500 to $550 per annum; Marie Europe, from $450 to $475; M. A. Lucas, from $550 to $600; H. E. Wilson, from $475 to $500. Harry S. ### AT ATLANTIC CITY ALL THE YEAR ROUND

There's not a summer season passed that does not bring its influx of Washingtonians into Atlantic City, the beautiful, fashionable, and healthy "city by the sea," yet there are few among us who understand the popularity and advantages of that city as a winter resort.

To better acquaint Washingtonians interested in winter headquarters out of town, Harry E. Smith, of Atlantic City, has engaged a suite of rooms on the first floor of the Shoreham, and surrounded himself with data and art illustrations that will prove interesting and instructive to anyone. Mr. Smith's object is to familiarize the public with the numerous amusements Atlantic City affords during the winter as well as the summer, and he has handsome booklets and a magnificent collection of views of the prominent hostels to emphasize his arguments. The photographs and sketches are splendid examples of modern possibilities, and show sections of the boardwalk, hotels, and general surroundings. One can hardly conceive that such summerlike scenes are being daily enacted within such a short distance of Washington, while we here are worrying about coal and buying additional oil heaters.

Among the most prominent hotels which Mr. Smith is representing are the Dunlop, Marlborough House, Seaside, Hare, E. H. Russell, Glenview, Fontaine, Dennis, Wiltshire, Brighton, Hadson Hall, St. Charles, Young's Hotel, Tremont, Raleigh, Strand, Glen Hall, Jelsworth, and the Garden, and he is ready to make booking for the future, should such be desired.

Visitors calling on Mr. Smith at the Shoreham Hotel will be made welcome and supplied with all the information that he has at his command. Hours, 10:30 to 1; 2:30 to 5, and 7 to 8 p. m., until next Saturday evening.

MUST PAY FOR PIANOS OUT OF REGULAR FUND

The Comptroller of the Treasury has given a decision to the District Commissioners on a question raised by the secretary of the Board of Education of the District as to whether pianos purchased for the use of the kindergartens of the public schools can properly be paid from the appropriation of $35,000 for kindergarten instruction under the act of March 3, 1893.

The Comptroller holds this appropriation cannot be so applied, and that pianos must be paid for out of the appropriation under the same act for the purchase of pianos for the schools. This appropriation amounts to $2,500.

$1.25 to Baltimore and Return Every Saturday and Sunday, via B. & O. R. R. All trains, both ways, both days, except Royal Limited, leaving Washington 3, and Baltimore 7:55 p. m.

HYATTSVILLE CITIZENS DETERMINED ON SEWERS

Will Ask Legislature to Authorize Bond Issue of $30,000 and Tax of 2 Per Cent.

(Special to The Washington Times.)

HYATTSVILLE, Md., Jan. 7.—Considering the short notice and the ice-covered sidewalks, there was a large attendance of the citizens at the Masonic Hall last night to hear the report of T. Chalkley Hatton, of Wilmington, Del., the engineer employed by the town council to make a preliminary survey of the streets and estimate the cost of a complete system of sewers.

Mayor Wells called the meeting to order and nominated William Gustaf as chairman. This was seconded by the meeting and William L. Hall was elected secretary.

Mr. Hatton exhibited a map of the proposed work and read a full, clear, and minute report of his surveys, recommendations, and estimates. The cost of five and a half miles of pipe, taking of the sewage, waste, and roof water of the whole town and the storm water of the section bounded by Maryland, Johnson, and Wine Avenues and Marion Street, and delivering the same by two exits into the eastern and northwestern branches of the Potomac, would be $30,000. The cost of one delivery after passage through a purifying tank would be $7,000 additional. The latter item of expense he considered as not necessary for several years.

After a great many objections were considered Dr. Mudd offered this resolution: "It is the sense of this meeting that the sewerage committee draw a bill for submission to the Legislature to enable the town of Hyattsville to bond in the sum of $30,000, and to levy a tax of 20 cents on the hundred dollars, as a sewer tax, to pay the interest on the bonds. Councilman Devlin offered an amendment increasing the issue to $35,000 and a tax of 25 cents, to provide for the construction of the purifying system from the start. This amendment seemed to have the approval of the meeting, but after a full discussion Mr. Devlin withdrew it, and the original resolution was adopted unanimously.

While there was a visible disappointment in the revelation that the report placed the estimate of cost $10,000 higher than the common opinion, still there was a unanimity of feeling that seems to make the early construction of sewers an undoubted accomplishment.

Tuesday evening Mrs. H. G. Machen gave her brother, Enoch Harman, a surprise party at their home in Maryland Avenue, the occasion being his birthday. Mrs. Harman and Bessie Scaggs assisted Mrs. Machen in receiving. The decorations were pink. Games, music, and refreshments were the features. Those present were the Rev. Dr. Cuckley, Sadie Cuckley, Mr. and Mrs. James Severe, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Machen, Lottie Bowen, Myrtle Day, Elsie Donaldson, Ada Emmons, Elsie Hall, Gertrude Harman, Ethel Harman, Edie Morrison, Susie McChesney, Amy Stelfox, Percy C. Bowen, Harry C. Donaldson, William McChesney, Joseph Morrison, Ervin Scaggs, Joseph Smith, Alpheus Souder, and William Yeager.

Miss F. Whiting, who has been for seven months in the Adirondacks for incipient tuberculosis, sleeping out of doors every night, regardless of weather, returned home last week in vigorous health and apparently cured, much to the gratification of her many friends. She is still keeping up the open-air treatment.

Adam Geib is ill at his home in Wine Avenue.
